		Cyathus, 1 ounce, halfe a quarter, 2 charats, 15 graines.
		Ligula, 3 drammes, and a scruple.

Nota. In the reduction of these ancient measures to this equality with our English assise, I have had respect only to Troy weight, the least quantity whereof is a graine, 24 of these graines make a penny weight, 20 penny weights, or 24 charats an ounce, 12 ounces a pound: this is proportionate to a pint, 2 pints a quart, 2 quarts a pottle, 2 pottles a gallon, 2 gallons a pecke Winchester measure, 8 gallons a busshell of graine, a firkin of liquor.

Gentle Reader, I have supplied the vacancie of this leafe with this list and Catalogue of the names, weights and valuations of such coines and monies as in divers places at this instant are in most frequent vse, which (I doubt not) will be beneficiall to some for the vnderstanding of our moderne relations.
